- > Goal 2: All students have access to effective educators
- ➤ Goal 3: All students experience continued academic growth
- ➤ Goal 4: All students graduate future-ready and globally prepared for postsecondary success and civic life

Traditional Homelands

There is great diversity among the four tribal nations, Numa, Newe, Nuwu, and Wa She Shu, in their languages, cultures, histories, and governments. Each Nation has a distinct and unique cultural heritage that contributes to modern Nevada.

History of Indian Education

NDE's Role in Indian Education

- Assembly Bill 266: Education Programs Professional Responsibilities
- ❖§NRS 389.150: Programs and Curricula
- ❖§NAC 391.233: Special Endorsement to teach Great Basin Native American Language
- Annual NDE's American Indian Education Summit
- Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Tribal Consultation

Why It Matters

- ✓ Omission, inaccurate narratives and stereotypes fuel bias on larger community scale (Fryberg, 2018). This can further perpetuate trauma and effective well-being.
 - ✓ Native student's not only have to face the omission of their identity/history and culture/language in school settings, they also face harmful presentations of information in texts, materials, and holidays celebrations.
- ✓ Researchers found that disparities between cultural values and patterns of communication of the home and school may undermine children's enthusiasm for learning and their belief in their own capacity to learn.
- ✓ The performance data for American Indian and Alaska Native students show that graduation rates and academic outcomes lag behind state averages.
