The Importance of Regular Two-Way Communication

Two-way communication is back and forth verbal, written, or electronic communication between two sides. Good two-way communication between families and schools is necessary for students to succeed and helps build relationships between teachers and their students' families.

Opportunities for two-way communication include:

- Parent-teacher conferences
- Parent-teacher organizations or school community councils
- Weekly or monthly folders of student work sent home for parent review and comment
- Phone calls
- E-mail or school website

By signing the Accord... you agree to the shared responsibility between the entire school staff, parents/legal guardians, and students on how to work together to improve student outcomes.
