Education Programs Professional
Office of Parental Involvement and Family Engagement

Brief Context

Senate Bill \(SB\) 143 of the 2007 Legislative Session:

- Established the Advisory Council on Parental Involvement and Family Engagement (now known as the Advisory Council for Family Engagement)
- Required each classroom teacher to distribute the code of honor and have the parent or legal guardian sign it
- Authorized teachers in elementary schools to provide to each parent and legal guardian of a pupil enrolled in the school, on a form prescribed by the Department of Education, a report containing certain information about the pupil and the involvement of the parent or legal guardian in the education of his child

NRS 392.456(3)

In addition to the requirements of subsection 2, the Department may prescribe additional information for inclusion on the form, including, without limitation:

- (a) A report of the participation of the parent or legal guardian, including, without limitation, whether the parent or legal guardian:
 - (1) Completes forms and other documents that are required by the school or school district in a timely manner;
 - (2) Assists in carrying out a plan to improve the pupil's academic achievement, if applicable;
 - (3) Attends conferences between the teacher and the parent or legal guardian, if applicable; and
 - (4) Attends school activities.
- (b) A report of whether the parent or legal guardian ensures the health and safety of the pupil, including, without limitation, whether:
 - (1) Current information is on file with the school that designates each person whom the school should contact if an emergency involving the pupil occurs; and
 - (2) Current information is on file with the school regarding the health and safety of the pupil, such as immunization records, if applicable, and any special medical needs of the pupil.

NRS 392.456(4)

A teacher at an elementary school may provide the form prescribed by the Department, including the additional information prescribed pursuant to subsection 3 if the Department has prescribed such information on the form, to a parent or legal guardian of a pupil if the teacher determines that the provision of such a report would assist in improving the academic achievement of the pupil.

NRS 392.456(5)

A report provided to a parent or legal guardian pursuant to this section must not be used in a manner that:

- (a) Interferes unreasonably with the personal privacy of the parent or legal guardian or the pupil;
- (b) Reprimands the parent or legal guardian; or
- (c) Affects the grade or report of progress given to a pupil based upon the information contained in the report.
